- We made the probes more memory efficient
- Reviewing each other's work (report and pull requests)

What went wrong:
Some communication problems, but it had no real effect of the work. We talked about it in the meeting on Friday and we all know what to change to prevent this from happening again.

What went right:
Almost the everything on the report went smooth, we all knew our tasks. On Monday we were almost done only on Thursday we had to finish the little things.
